“ 8 years ago today... I ask myself how can this be? Time doesn't stand still, this I know so well. The pain I feel without you is a constant. Re-reading the tributes bring a flood of tears and a pain in my heart that never seems to subside. I miss you Connie... more than words can express.

Love from your "little sis" ❤️

“ It has almost been 7 years. And your birthday is coming up soon, I wish you were still here, I had a baby and his name is River Shawn I just know with my whole heart your watching over him and you’ve got your arms wrapped tightly around him. I miss you and every night when I pray I talk to you as well, I hope you can hear me. I hope my balloons somehow reach you and you’ve gotten my letters up there, I miss calling you to tell you goodnight and just talking to you about school and always just coming to your house, it was my escape and you made everything better. You were always there anytime I needed you, you wiped all my tears and kissed all of my “boo boos” and did your best to keep me safe as you still do, but I wish you could just come back I know life doesn’t work that way, but I wish you could just come back and make this all go away. And kiss this huge “boo boo” on my heart and just be in my life again people say time heals and it gets easier but it hasn’t. Every holiday every birthday every good and bad thing that happens in my life I just want you there for it. I hope you’re proud of me, and God I hope you see this too. You are my whole heart and everything I do I do for you. I wish you would’ve gotten to meet my husband and my son. I wish he got to know how great you were. I love you always nanny mcpheedle. Every year without you gets harder but I’m glad you aren’t suffering I just wish I could hug you and hold your hand I’m sorry for not coming to see you that last time. I think about that very often. Watch over me. I miss you

“ Five years today you went away... to a place I pray is full of peace and beauty, with no pain. Life goes on Sis and I try my best to embrace each day and be thankful for my time here on Earth. When my time comes, I will not be afraid, as I know you will be at Heavens Gate to embrace me. You are never far from my thoughts... continue watching over me Sis. I love you and miss you.

“ My beautiful and loving "Big Sis"... Oh how I dread the coming of May 19th, although I know I should not, as it was the date 3 years ago that your pain and suffering ended. Unfortunately it has not ended for all the loved ones you left behind. Yes, we have all continued on with life and all that entails, but I know I speak for all those who loved and cherished you, that we would give anything to have you back. As I have heard so many say, you were the rock that held your family together and I know without a doubt what a great Mom you were, and you always put your kids first. I love you now as always Sis, and the void you left can never be filled. Until my next post... I love you & miss you.

“ Hey Sis... Just sitting on my balcony tonight enjoying the cooler weather & listening to the Memory wind chimes I received from a friend when you passed away. A balmy breeze and it feels like being at the beach (minus the sand & crashing waves). Thought of one of your favorite sayings and it made me smile - "more better". 😊 I love you Sis, and still think of you everyday. You will forever be in my heart. ❤️

“ Hey Sis... I wanted to wish you a Happy Mothers Day and share a special photo from Mothers Day, 2013. I hope you remember the outpouring of love in the room that day... you were surrounded by all of your children and your grandson Daniel, in this photo. Your room was overflowing and there was so much love and laughter it truly is a day I will forever remember and cherish. None of us could have ever known then that you would be gone one week later... and none of us were prepared to lose you so soon.

Give Chad a hug from me and tell him how much I love and miss him, everyday <3

I love you Sis <3

“ Dear Sis... I visit this site often, but probably not enough. Today is especially difficult as I look at your photo and your eyes seem so alive it makes me cry. I can't explain it but I feel your presence and I can hear you telling me not to be sad, to stay strong - everything will be alright. I would give anything if you were here. It doesn't seem possible that it will soon be two years since you were taken away. I know you're in a better place, without pain and suffering. I just miss you... so very much. And I love you forever and always.

“ A year ago today I was at your bedside, holding your hand and telling you how much I loved you and praying your final hours would be painless. Even though you couldn't see us I know you felt your loved ones around you and heard our prayers. Sis, not a day goes by that you don't cross my mind and I miss you more than words can express. I know one day we will be together again and I feel your love from above and know you are watching over me. I know you are not in pain and you finally have peace in your life and that is what comforts me when my heart aches. I love you...

“ *Don't think of me as gone away,
My journey's just begun.
Life holds so many facets,
This earth is only one.*

*Just think of me as resting,
From the sorrows and the tears.
In a place of warmth and comfort,
Where there are no days or years.*

*Think of how I must be wishing,
That you could know today,
How nothing but our sadness,
Can really pass away.*

*Think of me as living,
In the hearts of those I touched.
For nothing loved is ever lost,
And I have loved so much.*

FOREVER IN MY HEART

BOB - May 29, 2013 at 12:15 AM

“ From the journal I bought for you Connie the day you were released from the hospital:

FOOTPRINTS

*One night I dreamed I was walking along the beach with The Lord
Many scenes from my life flashed across the sky
In each scene I noticed footprints in the sand*

*Sometimes there were two sets of footprints
Other times there were one set of footprints
This bothered me because I noticed that during the low periods of my life,
when I was suffering from anguish, sorrow or defeat,
I could see only one set of footprints*

*So I said to the Lord...
"You promised me Lord, that if I followed you,
you would walk with me always
But I have noticed that during the most trying periods of my life there have only been one set of footprints in the sand.
Why, when I needed you most,
you have not been there for me?"*

*The Lord replied...
"The times when you have seen only one set of footprints in the sand, is when I carried you." ~Mary Stevenson*

I love you sis. I will forever treasure the time we had together the last 2 weeks. You are the bravest person I know! Through all the pain, suffering and humility you showed such grace. I know you were frightened and never will I be able to erase from my mind the pain and fear on your face when you would break down. Whether holding your hand, wiping away your tears, laying beside you and consoling you with talks of the beach, crashing waves, feeling your toes in the warm sand and the sun on your face, are memories that I will cherish always. Most of all though, I will remember your laughter... with all that you endured, you could always bring a smile to anyone around you. And yes, your sarcasm and potty mouth kept us all in stitches! I don't think I'll ever be able to eat biscuits and gravy and not think of "sawdust _ _ _ _!"

Your pain and suffering is now over and for this I am grateful. It still does not seem real to me that you are gone. I love you... forever and always.

“ Nanny, I can't believe this is real.. yesterday all I done was pray you would wake up! You were so beautiful and so peaceful laying there.. I wondered if u were there with me, I saw the lights flickering.. I knew it was you.. gosh, could you just come back? You were the heart of the family and many places! You were a mean old bat, as Terry would say lol. .. but your tough love kept EVERYONE you met, smiling and loved! I know you can't read this, but im sure your looking over my shoulder as I write this. I love you nanny! R.I.P.. never will you be forgotten! We love you, forever!
