“ How do you say goodbye to the one of a kind "sweet Lil gravelly voice Lil old Mrs. Janie"?

Well you definitely wouldn't forget to say goodbye or hello because she wouldn't let you if she got within the zip code of someone she loved she went out of her way to high your neck & talk a while.

Sweet old Mrs Janie, was usually the first one to jump on the bus that i would drive & bring them to church & she would love to be the last one to get off.

See what you may not know is that sweet Miss Janie and I had a special heart connection.

most people someone say everybody had a very hard time understanding Ms Janie because of all of her throat surgeries smoking her gravelly voice her Southern drawl & all in all the way she spoke.

God gave me the precious gift of speaking fluent sweet little gravelly voice Miss Janie, and she knew that.

she'd say hi to everybody but she can ask me to pray for her she didn't ask me if I can find an air conditioner and she always cared most about her little children they're always running around and driving her crazy, lol.

right at the very end she usually almost always ask for something for someone else she'd be fine she'd say but pray for so-and-so we're okay maybe a little food till payday but pray for so and so how are you doing she had a heart for people as big as all outdoors.

Jordan called me couple days before she passed and said she asked for me by name and wanted me to pray for her and that's a humbling honor I'll always appreciate God's gift of our own unique shared language to express God's love to one another.

I can't wait to one day pull up a step & sit a spell at the right hand of God the Father almighty.

Just us there on the porch of the pearly gates, drinking a cup of coffee, listening to our sweet gravelly voice Lil miss Janie rattle along about nothing special at all for all eternity with The Lord in Glory!

“ Mrs. JANIE as I called her was one of the sweetest most underrated Little women and all God's Kingdom. she is the Proverbs woman that takes care of the home, prepared the food, raised the kids & mends the clothes.

she never asked me for anything but prayer she always ask for good things her little ones needed.

she just wanted to be loved, to love on people & occasionally even air conditioning in her little house, which is not much to ask for always watching the tons of Lil ones that were running in and out all day everyday under her loving care. She mostly just asked for prayer.

like when she called me a couple days ago her sweet gravelly voice warm my heart and she simply said Big Jon will you pray for me and my family.

the idea that someone so sweet humble and God fearing as Miss Janie thought of me to take her cares to the Creator is an honor that I may never get used to.

some people have trouble understanding Miss Janie because of her southern draw and painful breathing\throat issues.

however I spoke Miss Janie fluently because God gifted an amazing Mrs Janie to Gods hear translation.

but it was coming by on the church bus to pick up the kids but she made sure went to go be with God and learn about his word or just coming out to say hi at community functions. she always sought me out and I think that's one of the reasons her and I we had a connection.

I thank God for that. I thank God sweet frail short lil Miss Janie, her gravelly voice, her love for the Lord and her constant pull towards letting me join in with her when we all spoke to the father.

Miss Jenny's prayers will always stay among my most tender & cherished memories during are very short stays on God's green earth.

and I am sure she's up there giving God a good gravelly earful and I can't wait to get up there and enjoy every minute of her for an eternity together in The glorious precense of Our perfect Father God Almighty.
