“ A few years ago we hired Nancy to be our Gardener and fix up our backyard. Nancy told us she was a master Gardener and she knew everything about flowers and plants, and she did!! After the whole summer, she had become like a member of the family and she always had something positive to talk about. After that she helped out with other jobs and started selling plants and especially banana trees. Even though she wasn't rich, she had a loving heart for for those less fortunate. Every year she potted one up for us to keep in the sun room and then plant in yard in the spring. Now every year we see those trees pop up I'll be thinking and praying for her loving soul.
