“ I have so many memories with Sandra and so many great times. She was like a mom to me. One that we always laughed at when brought up was, we went to look out mountain, Sandra purchased the tickets, by time we got in line to give the man our tickets she didn't remember where she put them, she ended up dumping her purse out on the table in front of everyone in line behind us and the man waiting for our tickets, she had everything a woman needed in that purse, we were embarrassed, but laughed at the same time, lol. so much fun that day.

Another time was Sandra being a mom, I had a 1975 ltd ford, by time I got to work one morning the water pump exploded in the parking lot, I couldn't deal with it then, about an hour later Sandra walks over to my area and said, " give me your car keys, its leaking fluid" I said, " I know its the water pump and I can't repair it yet, she said hand me the keys and opens her hand for me to hand them over, I said it won't go far, it will over heat, she said don't worry about, I got this one and I will be your ride home till its repaired. My boys and I spent a lot of time with Sandra, doing dinner, church and ice cream at her house sitting in the back yard or just hanging out, taking our vacations together. Sandra and I worked together for many years and became really good friends and then like a family even with her getting sick, we still talked and laughed. I love you Sandra(mom) and will miss you terribly. Lorinda
